

Die Another Day

*The madness creeping up on me
The pressure's building, I foresee
Alienation's lurking, spawning lunacy
Slowly escaping this wreckage in making
So don't look back for me*

*Sometimes we take it all
Nothing stands in our way
We have to fight and crawl
To die another day
Die another day, die another day*

*Misery often misleads
It creates things we cannot see
Excessive thoughts unbound, distorting reality
Slowly escaping this wreckage in making
So don't look back for me*

*Sometimes we take it all
Nothing stands in our way
We have to fight and crawl
To die another day
Die another day, die another day
Die another day, die another day*

*Hello, are you there?
How come won't you listen?
I really do care
I really don't care*

*Slowly escaping this wreckage in making
Nothing will be the same
So don't look back for me*

*Sometimes we take it all
Nothing stands in our way
We have to fight and crawl
To die another day*

*Sometimes we take it all
Nothing stands in our way
We have to fight and crawl
To die another day*
